Description

Patch USR*1*33 supports the Reminders Polytrauma Marker patch PXRM*2*17. Patches USR*1*33 and PXRM*2*17 are sent out together in a single distribution, with PXRM*2*17 requiring USR*1*33.

Patch USR*1*33 changes displays of User Class Names in Authorization and Subscription Utility (ASU) options. User Class Names are now shown by the name (field .01) of the entry in the User Class File (File #8930). Previously they were shown by their Display Names (field .04).

The following example is from a medical center that has populated its User Class File (#8930) with User Class Names in upper case (as in ACCOUNTANT) and Display Names with title capitalization (as in Accountant). Thus in the User Class Definition Option [USR CLASS DEFINITION] all names that appear in the list of active user classes are the actual User Class Names and thus are all in upper case:

Select OPTION NAME:

This is the User Class Name, not the Display Name.

The user class options are found under the User Class Management Menu [USR CLASS MANAGEMENT MENU], which is found under the TIU Maintenance Menu [TIU IRM MAINTENANCE MENU].

These changes are necessary because it is the entry name (field .01) of the Class which users see in other applications which involve User Class. Using the same name throughout avoids confusion.

Technical Description

For the information of developers: An optional parameter is added to the entry points WHATIS^USRLM and $$CLNAME^USRLM. This parameter, NAME01, takes the value 1 if the class entry name is wanted. Otherwise the parameter is left off and the routines work as before.

Installation Instructions

Patch USR*1*33 is distributed in a combined build with Reminders Polytrauma Marker Patch PXRM*2*17. See the Clinical Reminders Patch 17 Install Guide in the VISTA DOCUMENTATION LIBRARY (file PXRM_2_0_17IG.PDF) for general installation instructions for the host file.

This patch requires USR*1*15, USR*1*18, and USR*1*22.
